Parent Governors:

Emma Coleman

Term : November 2021 - November 2025

Originally from London Emma moved to the South West in 2010 and lives with her husband, son and very rambunctious puppy Olive in the village of Longburton. Her son Henry can currently be found thriving as a happy pupil in the reception class at All Saints.

Emma is an HR professional with a background in recruitment within the professional services industry. Emma's current role sees her work with senior leaders on a range of HR and people projects including remote working and learning, diversity, inclusion and women in leadership - expertise she is excited to add to the existing experience and skillset of the governing board.

She looks forward to working with the governors to ensure that the school continues to provide high-quality education and opportunities for all of the children at All Saints.

In her spare time, Emma enjoys spending time with her family exploring the countryside, renovating their house and more often than not she can be found with her head firmly stuck in a book.

Authority Governor

Sarah Wicks

Sarah grew up in the leafy suburbs of North-West London with passions for reading and horses. She gained a BEd in Primary and Middle School Education and began her 30 year teaching career in the London Borough of Barnet. In 1993, she moved to Dorset, firstly supply-teaching in the many primary schools around Blandford Forum and then spending 22 years at Knighton House School. Here she fulfilled her childhood dreams of becoming Head of a country boarding school with ponies and keeping goats, chickens and white doves! Having retired, she continues to promote reading as a Library Assistant at Blandford Library. Sarah believes passionately in the development of reading skills as crucial to learning and the building of children's confidence as key to progress.

Sarah lives in Durweston with her photographer husband, Alan, and their 2 cats. She loves wildlife, the countryside, gardening and history. In her spare time, she volunteers for the National Trust at Hardy's Cottage and, of course, she continues to indulge her passion for books!

Term: September 2020 - September 2024

Foundation Governors

David Campbell

Term: Feb 2021 - Feb 2025

David has been a priest in the Anglican Church for more than 25 years. During that time he has held posts in both Scotland and England. For the last 15 years he has been a chaplain in a number of independent senior schools; currently he is the Senior Chaplain at Sherborne School. He holds a doctorate in the causes and responses to conflict in the New Testament. He thoroughly enjoys his diverse life at Sherborne School – taking part in everything from teaching, to coaching rugby, football and golf, to leading the school's services in Sherborne Abbey. He likes nothing better than an early morning walk with his retired racing greyhound Billy. It has been a real joy for him to become involved with Bishops Caundle School and he hopes to be able to contribute something to the very rich life of this wonderful community.

Head Teacher

Nigel Roberts

Term: Sept 2019 onwards

Nigel grew up in Bath where his love of sports (in particular rugby) began. He joined the Army as a young man and served in the Royal Signals - across the world - for 22 years. In this time he played rugby union for the Army and also for Roundhay and then Leeds in various National Leagues. On retiring from the Army, he completed his PGCE with the Borough of Poole SCITT. Since qualifying, Nigel has worked at schools in Poole and Blandford. He became Headteacher of All Saints in September 2019. Nigel is married to Maria, they have two children William (Bill) and Henry, both of whom continue the families love of rugby. In his spare time, he enjoys walking his dogs, reading and completing (or at least trying to complete) crosswords. Nigel has also become a proficient taxi driver for his children.

Staff Governor

Lisa Regan

Term: Sept 2021 - Sept 2025

Lisa Regan has lived in Dorset for the majority of her life, except when training to be a teacher at The University of Plymouth, where she gained a BEd in primary teaching, with physical education as a specialism. It is here that she met her husband Gregory Regan, who is also a teacher and teaches at a special needs school for autism. Both are extremely sporty, and as a result are heavily involved with the local community, including their most recent tour to South Africa with a rugby and netball team. Teaching has always been a passion of Lisa's, and as a result, she thrives on giving her best and helping all the children she works with to be the best that they can be, reach their full potential and achieve their dreams. It is also this dedication that sees Lisa at the many PTA events as well as representing the staff on the Governing Body at All Saints. Lisa is the Deputy Headteacher at All Saints Primary School and is committed and passionate about making a real difference, to what she believes is a great school. In her spare time, she is found mostly playing netball, reading her much-loved books, playing with her family dogs or having family times with her nearest and dearest.
